Conflict Metals Statement.

We do recognize that these materials: Tin, Tantalum, Tungsten and Gold can be obtained from countries listed as conflict regions. In Touch Electronics is continually working with its partners to assure that we do not use minerals mined or smelted from conflict regions.

To help with this process, we do declare that some of our products contain some of the metals listed, namely: Tin, Tantalum, and Gold. Furthermore, we declare that we do not purchase any materials from the Democratic Republic of the Congo Conflict Regions or any other conflict region.

Any supplier found to be purchasing these listed minerals from conflict regions is subject to review and can be terminated immediately without notice.
